

SAUNTERINGS

From Where The West Begins.

By JOHN T. MEYERS.
For The Sea Coast Echo

CHALK up another score for law and order! Public nuisance No. 1, John Dillinger, killer, robber, and gangster, bad man deluxe, received his just deserts at the hands of federal officers as he left a moving picture show in Chicago last Sunday evening. Again, as in recent Clyde Barrow-Bonnie Parker grand finale, the officers set their plans for the 'kill' with cool, deliberate, certainty. Expert marks-men, representing the law, awaited the desperado's exit, following a tip off from one of Dillinger's women associates. Before he could get his automatic into action, bullets from officers' guns turned a 'tough guy' into a 'stiff guy.' Unfortunately, two innocent women bystanders were slightly wounded by stray bullets. The handwriting is plainly written on the bloody walls of all gangster hideouts—the tables are turned—gangland rats are getting a taste of their own dose of hot lead—and public sentiment is urging the officers on to a complete clean up of every criminal rodent still at large.

OUT of the many spectators in the theatre as Dillinger viewed his fatal motion picture entertainment, there will be lots who by stretch of imagination are relating how they sat next to or directly behind this marked criminal. And the strange part is that a few will actually believe the yarn themselves. That's one of the unsolved kinks of human nature.

THERE should be a heavy demand for deaf, dumb, and blind gunnolls by criminal gangsters-at-large since Dillinger's girl friend put him on the spot.

A RANCH totaling some 1,280,000 acres is owned by Representative Kieberg of Texas. The state of Rhode Island could almost be set down on this Texas ranch. A thousand-acre ranch is considered small grazing land in the Lone Star state, and a wild, long horn steer considers a 100-acre ranch a mere pent house. Whoopee! my chaps, spurs, and lariats, Poncho—and don't forget the stuffed pillow.

WE are still wondering if the heat caused that fellow at a soda fountain to walk out of the store with drink in hand, stand on the curb, and nonchalantly sip away unconscious of the amused attention he created as downtown noon-day traffic swarmed past.

YOU'VE read of sneak thieves who steal money from collection boxes for the poor in churches, and the mean person who steals household pets from children, but to-day's rawfiding is awarded the human virtue who stole a marble statue of an angel from the sanctuary of a grave in a cemetery.

ONESOME visitors within the gates of a strange city resort to various methods of making new friends and acquaintances. The young lady in charge of the post card counter at the 5 and 10-cent store revealed that men and women oftentimes secretly write their name, address, or telephone number on postcards in her stock in vague hopes of striking up an acquaintance. Sometimes a pathetic plea for friendship accompanies the writer's identity. Middle aged men are found to use this unique "make friends" system more than any other.

Friendship makes prosperity brighter, while it lessens adversity by sharing its griefs and anxieties—Cicero.

ALLEN the darkly elevator boy recently purchased an alarm clock. It was a gaudy study in bright pink. In reply to a query, why he didn't get a plain dark or nickel clock, Allen replied: "Boss hit's hard enough to get up early without staring a gloomy old 'larm clock in de face. Dat pretty bright color will kinda help take the 'cracklins outa mah eyes, and 'splain dat de world outside ain't feelin as worthless as I is when dat bell goes off."

The first newspaper published west of the Alleghenies was the Pittsburgh Gazette, established in 1786.

A FRIEND who claims to have authority for his statement informs that the various species of the lily—Easter lily included—are naturally a typical desert plant. Don't have time to dig up facts on the topic at present. Possibly some Mississippi Gulf Coast flower lover could settle the argument for us.

All Wrong
Friend—What's the matter with you?
Goldie Diggs—I'm terribly worried. I wrote Jack Cashmore in my last letter to forget that I had told him I didn't mean to reconsider my decision about not changing my mind, and he seems to have misunderstood me.

Boom, Boom
Mrs. Binder—Is there any difference, Thomas, do you know, between a fort and a fortress?
Mr. Binder—I should imagine a fortress, my dear, would be more difficult to silence—Utica Press.

Library To Benefit By Small Donations; Bright Prospects.

What effect will re-distribution of wealth (should such a thing occur) have on the public library? We are told in a recent article by Eleanor Roosevelt, that libraries, in common with other public institutions will find themselves depending less and less on large donations of the Carnegie sort, and more on numerous small donations from individuals in ordinary circumstances.

Be it as it may, Mrs. C. C. Clark, Board member of Waynesboro library, states that twenty-five ladies of that town have pledged one dollar a month each toward the support of their library. Here is something for us to think over!

Brothers' Retreat At Saint Stanislaus To Begin This Friday, 27.

AN ECHO OF THE RECENT GIRL SCOUT SECOND STREET CAMP

Mrs. J. B. Goldman, Leader, Presented With Silver Platter in Appreciation of Services

Girl Scouts, of Troop 1, who camped in the woods in Second street, presented Mrs. J. B. Goldman, their leader, a silver platter as a permanent reminder to her of her gratitude for her efforts to make the camp the success attained.

Mrs. Goldman, upon receiving the token, said, "I was never quite so pleased. I am happy that the girls enjoyed the outing, and I shall try to thank them for this lovely gift."

Five Girl Scouts to Receive Junior Life Savers' Badge

Eulalie Coward, Alice Vivian Evans, Estelle Peppard, Caroline Griffith, and Eleanor Jacobs, who passed the Red Cross Junior Life Savers' test at Gulfport, July 12, under the instruction of Mrs. H. A. McElroy, will receive their badges this week.

These Scouts will also receive, at Court of Awards, the merit badge for Life Saving, which is identical with the Red Cross test.

MRS. RICHARD MIOTON LAID TO REST AT CEDAR REST CEMETERY WED'Y

Was Daughter of Mrs. Wm. J. Gallup—End came After a Month's Illness.

Following a month's illness, following a surgical operation, Mrs. Agnes Polillon, wife of Richard Mioton, died at her home Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock, surrounded by her loved ones.

She was a native of Bay St. Louis, aged 28 years, and was a daughter of Mrs. Wm. J. Gallup, who survives. Also are three children, Margery, Elsie Mae and Dorothy. Funeral was held Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock from the late residence and church of Our Lady of the Gulf, Rev. Patrick Moran officiating. Interment, Cedar Rest Cemetery.

The death of this young woman, mother of three small children, is particularly distressing. Death is sad under any and all conditions. Grim Reaper knows neither person nor position. Mrs. Mioton was a devoted wife and loving mother and was not only well known by a wide circle of friends and acquaintances but generally esteemed. Her untimely death is to be deplored and the relatives have the deepest sympathy of the community in their hour of profound sorrow.

The meeting was well attended and refreshments were served at conclusion of the meeting, with dancing completing the evening. The next meeting is scheduled for Thursday night August 16th. All members are urged to attend.

GENEROUS PROMINENT HELP FOR GROUP AT BENEFIT PINE HILLS

Success Crowned Efforts of Ladies and Gentlemen Assisting Catholic Church Fair

The annual fair for the benefit of the church of Our Lady of the Gulf was held on the lawn of St. Stanislaus College Saturday and Sunday, July 21 and 22. In the archives of the parish we find that this fair was started over 80 years ago and since then has become one of the traditional events of the parish. Children as well as grown folks look forward to this bazaar with delight, and this year they were not disappointed.

As the years roll on new forms of amusements and games are added so that the fair is always one of the bright spots of the year. The fair, too, is one of the best means of judging the trend of the times, and basing our judgment on the result of the fair we can say that we are fast recovering from the financial depression and are actually headed for better times. From a financial point of view the results are far ahead of last year, even though the entire proceeds have not yet been turned in; while the spirit of the workers was second to no year in the history of the fair.

On the second night the Municipal Band of Bay St. Louis furnished the music, and this was one of the reasons for the great crowd in attendance. Hon. William Colmer, Member of Congress from the 6th District addressed the crowd. Our Sheriff, T. Ed Keller introduced the speaker, and proved to be quite an orator. A detailed account of this feature will be found in this issue of The Echo.

As promised in a former issue of this paper we will give a list of the donors and workers for the fair, these are only a few of the many good people who made the fair a success.

Mrs. Ed Heath, Jos. O. Mauffray, Ed. Arceneaux, August Schiro, Miss Alice Spurl, Mrs. Reginald Blaize, Mrs. Cornu, Mrs. Minot, Mrs. Gus Soniat, Mrs. Peter Muller, Miss Fannie Brown, Mrs. R. Japanese newspapers report that the President will send an outstanding representative to Japan to survey the political, naval and economic situation in the Island Empire.

Contracts for the Grand Coulee dam and power plant, on the Columbia river, have been awarded and construction will begin on the dam to be 335 feet high and 3,400 feet long. Boulder dam, on the Colorado river is to be 730 feet high and 1,180 feet long.

Postmaster General Farley, in his capacity as Chairman of the National Democratic Committee, "concedes no Senate seats whatever" and says this goes "even for such Republican strongholds as Pennsylvania and Maine."

An annual saving of $275,000 to the Baltimore and Ohio railroad is seen in the offer of bankers to handle a $50,000,000 issue at a cost of 4.70 per cent. A previous offer, at a cost of 5.50 per cent net with an announcement from Chairman Jones of the RFC that it would make the loan at not more than 5.00 per cent.

About 25,000 of the 30,000 veterans cut off the pension rolls because they could not prove their disabilities were incurred in service have been restored to 75 per cent of what they formerly received, in accordance with the act of Congress which required the government to prove they were not disabled in service.

The naval airship Los Angeles has been condemned as unsafe for flight and will not be allowed to take the air again. This leaves the nation with only one dirigible, the Macon.

Secretary Wallace, back from Western farming districts, declares that so far as could be observed there are numbers of farmers who "want more rather than less Federal regulation."

By showing that water power reduces the cost of electricity to consumers the newly created Power Policy Commission is expected to work up sentiment for the development of the St. Lawrence, in accordance with the waterway treaty that has been rejected.

Father Denis administering communion.

The church, with its picturesque settings in the pines, was crowded, many people driving from points many miles away. The day in church annals at Kiln will not be forgotten. It was an inspiring sight to see the many participating in the holy ceremony.

THEY COULD NOT SWIM

FAR from wishing to add anything to the grief of those related to five young ladies who drowned last week while attempting to wade along a rock reef to a buoy about 200 feet from the shore of West Okoboji Lake, in Iowa, we nevertheless call attention to the tragedy in an attempt to remind people not to take risks in water.

It seems that four young ladies, ranging in age from 17 to 19, together with a teacher, age 28, were edging along a reef, when one of them slipped off the ledge into eight feet of water. Her companions, trying to rescue her, also went over the edge, where they drowned. Only the teacher could swim and she gave her life trying to save the others.

Citizens of Hancock county, who cannot swim, will do well to stay away from dangerous places. Eight feet of water might not carry much terror to a swimmer but to one who cannot swim, and has to walk on the bottom, it is too much depth. That's simple arithmetic and everybody ought to be able to understand it.

LETTER FROM A VETERAN FACTORY MAN

ELSEWHERE in this issue of The Sea Echo appears, under classified heading of "Letters From the People," a communication signed Ralph Blaize, who gives the side of one who has practically all his life been connected with the canning industry.

Mr. Blaize tells of the modern way in which seafood canning factories are operated, under governmental inspection. And that the strictest sanitary requirements are carried out by official mandate. We are assured by this veteran, and benefit by his experience, that canning factories do not in any way prove a menace, either to health or inconvenience of the public and that one needs not fear of any injurious and damaging effect as a result of canneries. Such apprehensions are groundless.

STRANGE PROCEDURE

CAN any reader of The Echo imagine an automobile racer being convicted in our courts following an accident to his racing car in which an assistant loses his life and the driver himself is injured?

Frankly, we cannot. However, on the Isle of Man, a small British possession in the Irish Sea, Kaye Don, world-known motor car and motor boat racer, was convicted under such circumstances, although he testified that he did not believe he had been careless.

Mr. Don took the stand to testify, walking with a stick, after having spent several weeks in a hospital himself. In this land of the brave and home of the free a tender-hearted jury would have turned the speed-demon loose, and what with movie offers and vaudeville contracts, racing would have become a sideline with him.

DESERVING OF CREDIT

CONSIDERING the stringency of the times and the limited time ladies and gentlemen in charge had to consummate arrangements, the Catholic church fair, held Saturday and Sunday nights, proved a success far in excess of that expected. The sum realized accentuates success in the fullest term.

Mrs. Edmund F. Fahey, general chairlady, and her assistants, were well organized and each unit worked previously and up to the time of the double-dated event. Fine work and also a credit to the public that attended and spent their money.

Naturally the management of Our Lady of the Gulf Church must feel gratified at such success at this time and the ladies and gentlemen in turn must feel equally as proud of the achievement.

THE HOT SPELL

DURING the hot spell that swept over parts of the country recently, temperatures were announced, as usual, as being so much "in the shade." One is entitled to speculate why the reading in the sun was not fixed as the basis of observation. That is where millions have to work and endure the summer broil. The harvester gets no great amount of consolation or useful information out of the recording of a shade temperature. Speaking of warm weather, it might not be out of order to reprint the story of the man who contemplated a trip to Egypt. When warned it was over a hundred for a week in a hotel there, he replied: "Well, I can live in a cheap boarding house."

Here's to the subscriber who renews promptly—may his tribe increase and prosper.

A woman wants to know what has become of the man who objected, some years ago, to the public display of female ankles.

Work in hot weather is no harder than in colder eras but the heat is just enough excuse to give a lazy man a reason for standing by.

Every day in different places people are being killed by automobiles but it seems to make little difference so far as speeders in Mississippi are concerned.

A GENERAL STRIKE

WEEKS ago about 27,000 longshoremen and marine workers on the Pacific Coast went on a strike in an effort to secure better working conditions. Shipping in the port of San Francisco, particularly, was tied up and boats could not unload their cargoes.

Complications arose recently when an effort was made to move freight and the State of California became involved because it owns a belt railway line over which cars are supplied terminals. The Governor called out troops to prevent strikers from stopping the operation of freight cars over the State-owned line.

Then the labor forces of the San Francisco retaliated with their most powerful weapon, calling a general strike, under which 105,000 union workers quit work in sympathy with the other strikers and in an effort to bring pressure to bear in behalf of the marine workers. This may involve a serious shortage of food and other necessities for the 1,300,000 people living in that section.

We do not know the merits of the original strike. As a rule, we are sympathetic to the cause of labor and fully believe in labor's right to strike. However, on the other hand, striking laborers have no right to use violence to prevent other men from working if they want to accept the jobs.

A general strike is a weapon directed not only against the employers involved in the labor dispute but mainly against the general population, men, women and children, and seeks by creating general discomfort and distress to win a victory. Under a general strike, workers who have no complaint of their own with those engaged in the primary strike to enforce the latter's demands by jeopardizing the safety of the general community.

The State of California cannot afford to allow a group, even one consisting of 100,000 workers, to create and maintain conditions which imperil the lives or safety of more than a million people, a large number of which are women and children.

BUSINESS IS BETTER

THE Research Department of Dun and Bradstreet, Inc., reports a better business prospect for the American nation saying: "All Primary indicators point definitely to the fact that, in distribution, prices, wages, employment, and general activity, industry is on a higher level than at this time a year ago. With gains of the early months of 1934 extended and consolidated, and nation-wide progress will be possible."

The report goes on to say: "On the breadth of the foundation which has been laid during the past six months, the third quarter is being launched from position of the greatest strength in the last five years. All of the seven primary factors established an impressively favorable trend during the quarter just closed, as commercial failures declined almost simultaneously, commodity prices revealed sustained strength, while wage scales were definitely higher. Fluctuations in employment were attributed chiefly to the outbreak of strikes during this period, but an improvement was maintained."

"For industrial sales a further expansion was reported, and industrial activity continued to gain. The broadened volume of bank clearings carried the aggregate for the second quarter to more than 70 billion dollars, making the largest three-month clearings total that has appeared on the records since the first quarter of 1932."

GIRL SCOUTS INCREASE

THE Sea Coast Echo is glad to observe that the Girl Scouts number more than 300,000 with every indication of steady growth in the future. At the end of 1933 there were 315,904 Girl Scouts and Brownies in the United States, which, in our opinion, is a good thing for the 315,904 Girl Scouts and Brownies.

While the largest memberships are in New York, Massachusetts and Pennsylvania, the organization reports show that states in the Middle West and Far West had the largest percentage gains last year.

The adults in any community which is fortunate enough to have capable leaders for the Scout organizations should not fail to express their gratitude. It is quite a social contribution for a young man or woman to give up spare hours to the work of the organizations and the pity is that so often they do so without any recognition of their beneficial and unselfish contribution to the boys and girls of their home towns.

Business men will be interested in the statement that "the turning point of the depression" was passed during the first half of last year, as evidenced by sales of uniforms and equipment. From July, 1933, on the monthly sales have been in excess of the year before.

NEW PASSENGERS FOR RAILROADS

CAN the railroads of the nation regain their passenger traffic?

That has been the question for some years and the answer is seen in the experiment of several roads that have reduced coach rates. The Louisville and Nashville railroad, for example, about a year ago cut its coach rate to two cents a mile and in the first twelve months passenger traffic gained 54.1 per cent.

Other railroads have cut their rates as low as one and a half cents per mile, with large increases in passenger traffic.

Given rates like these, plus more public schedules and service, the travelling public will show the railroads how much they like to ride the trains.

PLENTY OF MONEY

IS there money in the country?

The answer seems to be a loud "yes" when we hear that the State of New York recently borrowed $30,000,000 for seven months at an annual interest rate of three-eighths of one per cent.

This will be news to some sections of the country where private borrowers have been accustomed, in years past, to rates running as high as seven and eight per cent.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

VETERAN FACTORY MAN PRESENTS VIEWS

Myrtle Grove, La., July 19, 1934
Editor Sea Coast Echo,
Bay St. Louis, Miss.,

Dear Mr. Moreau:—I read in this morning's Times-Picayune about the controversy going on at Bay St. Louis over the canning companies that want to put up their plants at the Bay. Being a voter and taxpayer I would like to say something on the matter and wish you would print this in your paper.

In the first place what are those people's objections? Is it to deprive hundreds of people from making an honest living? Instead of objecting to factories coming to the Bay, they ought to encourage factory men to build. If there had been two or three factories in Bay St. Louis during this depression it would have not been necessary for men and women being humiliated by having to stand in line around the court house, waiting for their Dole to be dish out. I have been working in canning plants for thirty years and know what I am talking about. Do those people who are objecting know what it means to the working people to have two factories at the Bay?

For every barrel of shrimp that is packed $1.75 to $2.00 is paid out for labor alone. And you can see what that means if two factories will pack 100 barrels each per day what the payroll will be. This is not including the raw material as shrimp cost from six to seven dollars per barrel. And if the two factories pack 1000 barrels of oysters a day the payroll will be the same. There is no objectionable odor around a canning plant no more than around the kitchen when certain foods are cooked. All canneries have to run under the laws and rules of the U. S. Pure Food Act and that means they have to be kept clean and sanitary or close up. I am sure there will be no odor emanating from the canneries at the Bay as they are built over the water and will be easy to keep clean. Biloxi has canning plants all most from one end of the beach to the other and their is no kick. My company has a plant at Pass Christian and we have no kick. The only kick we have from the city is when the plant is not running. Our lease expired with the city a few months ago and the only way that the city would renew the lease was for the Dunbar-Dukate Company to guarantee them that they would operate the plant at all times. The Pass Christian people are wise. They know what it means to have the factory running.

Respectfully yours,
RALPH S. BLAIZE.

MAYOR AND COMMISSIONERS COMMENDED FOR STAND

Bay St. Louis, July 24, 1934.
Editor Sea Coast Echo:

The writer, a taxpayer in your city, takes this means to express his stand regarding the controversy now being waged over the canneries being constructed in the Bay. It has been noted always that certain interests will stand in the way of progress even to the detriment of the native born of a community.

These well fed interests, financially unembarrassed, will stop at nothing to present an honest man in need to earn an honest living. Luckily they are in the minority, but the fact remains that it is impossible to understand their motive or what gain they expect to harvest by their selfish attitude.

The writer has spent several months in your city during which time he was also one of the unemployed because the city could not supply its unemployed with a payroll, a condition which has existed for many years. And now that the canneries want to supply work for all who wish to work a mighty howl is raised in a mighty effort to deprive the citizens of their God given right, a livelihood.

Every community owes its citizens an honest living. Americans do not want charity. Relief allotments were accepted and appreciated only because deprivation was the next alternative. Emergency relief has saved the people from starvation but it cannot remain a permanent fixture. The New Deal has stressed the necessity of employment and new pay-rolls.

And when relief comes to Bay St. Louis in the form of employment for wages for the needy families it is inconceivable to be confronted by a mere handful of objections. Let us pull straw among them and see if any of them had the "pleasure" of welding a shovel in the broiling sun any time during the past two years. All petitions against the canneries should be guaranteed a safe haven in the wastebasket which is the place where they belong.

The writer speaking for the citizens of this city wishes to commend the brave stand taken by Mayor

BLACK-DRAUGHT

"Such a Good Laxative," Says Nurse
Writing from her home in Festus, Mo., Mrs. Anna LaPlante says: "I am a practical nurse and I recommend to some of my patients that they take Black-Draught, for it is such a good laxative. I took it for constipation, headache and a dull feeling that I had so much. A few doses of Black-Draught—and I felt just fine."
Because so many people know from having used it that Black-Draught is a good, purely vegetable laxative, it is sold in packages of 10 and 25 each.

CANNED ROSES

(Coast Herald)

IT will be interesting to florists, nurserymen, horticulturists, shippers of plants, and garden club members to know that California is shipping millions of roses in preservative containers. Thinking that perhaps those locally interested have not seen the article from San Francisco, we reproduce it:

"The process was the culmination of experiments over a long period to find some method of preserving plants."

"The rosebush is pruned to fit a cardboard box fifteen inches long. The portion in which the roots are placed is coated with tar to retain moisture. The plants are dipped in a double-boiler type, electrically-heated vat to receive a thin coating of paraffin at temperatures from 165 to 180 degrees. The vat's galvanized walls have a space filled with magnesium powder as insulation."

"The preservative power of the melted wax has been demonstrated. One grower reported successfully treating cuttings of dahlias and other flowers so that they could be held in storage nearly a year."

"The rapid growth of the rose canning industry is believed to pre-empt its extension in the near future to other rare and more delicate flowers which cannot now be shipped long distances."

A FIRST CLASS FOOL.

(McComb Enterprise)

NOW here is our idea of a first class fool, pure and simple.

About 3 months ago the sister of the writer went down low into the valley of shadows. With the help of a half dozen specialists, a hospital corps of nurses and a kind Providence she rallied by margin too narrow to measure, and out of the shadows with her came a 2½ pound baby girl. During these three months, by zealous care and devotion and strict obedience to the instructions of a baby specialist, this infant has thrived; now weighing over seven Blaize, Mr. Bourgeois and Mr. Perkins in their fight for the working man. They deserve the undying gratitude of the people who are to benefit by their success. And all best wishes and good luck to the canneries and the men who are bringing help to a city in distress, the employers.

AN APPRECIATION OF BAY ST. LOUIS.

Bay St. Louis, Miss., July 23, 1934.
Editor Sea Coast Echo:—

While I have been a constant subscriber to your valuable newspaper many years, this is the first time my family and self are spending the summer months in Bay St. Louis after a long absence.

We found out our mistake. The several seasons we were away we traveled and visited other places, tolerating a heat and inconvenience that we would never have stood for at home. While people run the country over in the hottest part of the year and lay themselves open to all kinds of hazards has never seemed clear, even though I did it myself. This summer finds me in Bay St. Louis. Cool breezes, unusual seawater bathing, perfect automobile roads radiating to all points of the immediate country. And, best of all, living is not expensive.

Everything one thinks of is conducive to the argument why go elsewhere during the summer than to this section? It is a health haven for children, and for adults as well. And in addition to the charm of country many of the urban conveniences are found right here.

I know your paper circulates well over spaces other than the Gulf Coast and I hope this letter will be read, pause and reflect. Then do the right thing. Come to Bay St. Louis.

ONE WHO IS GRATEFUL.

Says States Fail To Cooperate With Federal Dry Agents

A treasury official at Washington states that local police in many dry states are apathetic about helping Uncle Sam keep the wet tide out of their domain.

Dwight E. Avis, supervisor of investigation of the alcoholic tax unit enforcement division, said these local officers have become so indifferent to the liquor business that it has become downright embarrassing for federal agents.

In one Southern state, discouraged federal men finally released two carloads of seized, tax-paid liquor, after state officials were quoted as saying it meant nothing to them but another doorstep baby.

In one or two states, Avis said, federal agents are getting assistance from the local authorities, but in many other places, particularly in the south, city and county police are uninterested.

He illustrated conditions by citing Atlanta, where the city has passed an ordinance regulating the sale of beer although it is prohibited by Georgia law.

Avis said that while state lines figure somewhat in the problem, it is largely a matter of the attitude of local officers. In some sections, moonshine is the chief source of supply but in others the sale of imported liquor, with the federal tax paid, is described as wide open.

Avis said liquor seized indicate the moonshine industry in "dry" states has emerged from the depression in a big way.

THOMAS MEIGHAN, a silent star, is attempting a come back and appears in "Peck's Bad Boy," along with Jackie Cooper.

"Treasure Island" not proving such a hit in some sectors and a deluge of pirate pictures coming along, Cecil DeMille has abandoned plans for "Buccaneer."

Hollywood was amazed when eastern offices, bowled over by the storm of criticism against immoral pictures, decided to permit theatres to cancel pictures on moral grounds.

With the new purity regulations in effect last week for the first time producers studied plans to salvage what they could out of productions certainly bound for rejection. Several million dollars worth of celluloid is thus tied up until a white-brush can be applied.

Along this line the new Mae West film is getting along satisfactorily, with the star's future dependent upon how the public likes it. Paramount has also dropped "Sailor Beware," a very rowdy comedy which cannot be rewritten.

Metro also has lots of trouble trying to revamp Jean Harlow's "Born to Be Kissed," a torrid effort originally. Joan Crawford's "Chained" is being reworked and so is Greta Garbo's "Painted Veil." Several others have been dropped entirely.

Gloria Swanson is to have the lead in "Music in the Air" at Fox.

Damon Runyon's "Lemon Drop Kid" will star Lee Tracy, who will appear in the Paramount film version.

Universal plans to do "Robinson Crusoe" instead of "Swiss Family Robinson" and may send a company to the island of Juan Fernandez, 300 miles off the coast of Chile.

Lionel Barrymore will be the Dan Peggotty of MGM's "David Copperfield."

Paul Robeson, who was "Emperor Jones," will be a native chief in "Congo Raid," to be produced by a British company.

Charles Boyer, heralded by Fox as a sensational European importation, upon completing his work in "Caravan," will probably return to his native France. Assigned to "The Captive Bride," by Jesse L. Lasky, he refused, considering the picture below his dignity.

Metro has announced that it has

NOTICE OF TRUSTEE'S SALE OF LAND

STATE OF MISSISSIPPI
COUNTY OF HANCOCK

Whereas, on the 20th day of April, 1932, Max N. Kohler became and was indebted to the Continental Bank & Trust Company, of New Orleans, Louisiana, in the sum and amount of $3,333.33; said indebtedness being evidenced by a certain promissory note of said date, signed, delivered and fully executed by said Max N. Kohler, in favor of the said Continental Bank & Trust Company of New Orleans, Louisiana, the said note being in the principal sum of $3,333.33, bearing date as aforesaid, maturing one year after its said date, with interest at the rate of 8 per cent per annum thereon from its said date until payment thereof should be made, and providing for an additional amount of ten per cent on principal and interest on said note in the event same should be placed in the hands of an attorney for collection upon default in payment at maturity; and,

Don't Be Fooled!

THE addition of coloring matter to gasoline does not increase its anti-knock value, nor does it improve its quality or make it "high-test." It merely changes its color.

CROWN STANDARD GASOLINE is a pure, powerful motor-fuel. There is no gas, or vapor, lock; no corroding sulphur, no sticking gum. It contains actual, added anti-knock properties, at no extra cost. The claim often made for other motor-fuels, that they are "just as good," obviously suggests that Crown Standard Gasoline is the standard of quality.

Don't depend on color when you buy gasoline. Look for the Crown Standard Gasoline trade-mark on the pump.

TIRES BOUGHT NOW AFFORD PROTECTION NEXT WINTER, TOO

Safety on Hot Summer Roads As Well as Slippery Streets of Winter Is Assured

In the hot days of summer few, if any, car owners give winter driving any thought, but there is an interesting summer factor that has winter application, in the opinion of E. J. Arceneaux, local Goodyear dealer. "It is a fact that new tires applied to cars now serve the double purpose of trouble-free summer driving on hot roads that sap the life of worn casings. Mr. Arceneaux continued, "and which at the same time also insure plenty of good non-skid treads for winter use when slick streets and highways demand extra safety and traction."

"With the introduction of Goodyear's new G-3 tire which has 43 per cent more non-skid mileage, motorists who buy tires now not only enjoy summer driving without tire annoyance, but next winter, will have design left than would be the case with ordinary tires, Mr. Arceneaux declared.

"This is an important consideration from the standpoint of the pocketbook, too, because the new tire doesn't cost any more than ordinary tires despite the increased potential mileage."

Passing Away of August Bernard of Bay St. Louis and N. O.

The Echo regrets to note the passing away of its good friend, August Bernard, former Bay St. Louis resident, who has been ill at Mercy Hospital, New Orleans, the past five months, in much suffering. Mr. Bernard was a property owner and great booster for Bay St. Louis and had quite a following boasting "the Bay."

He passed away July 14, 8:55 A. M., and was the beloved husband of Catherine Klein, father of Mrs. Henry Taylor and the late Mrs. Mary Fitzgerald, native of New Orleans, aged 79 years. His sister, Mrs. Henry Bernard Fitzgerald, died April 28, 1934.

Mr. Bernard was quite a mixer and had many friends and acquaintances here who will learn of his passing away. His daughter, Mrs. Henry Taylor resides at 1413 Louisiana avenue, New Orleans.

The Federal Trade Commission has asked a company to answer a charge of false advertising. The manufacturing company claimed that its product would reduce weight 16 pounds in 8 days and that physicians all over the world recommended its use. These assertions, says the commission's complaint, are untrue.

Stop Chills and Fever!

Rid Your System of Malaria!

Shivering with chills one moment and burning with fever the next—that's one of the effects of Malaria. Unless checked, the disease will do serious harm to your health. Malaria, a blood infection, calls for two things. First, destroying the infection in the blood. Second, building up the blood to overcome the effects of the disease and to fortify against further attack.

Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic supplies both these effects. It contains tartaric quinine, which kills the infection in the blood, and iron, which enriches and builds up the blood. Chills and fever soon stop and you are restored to health and comfort. For half a century, Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic has been sure relief for Malaria. It is just as useful, too, as a general tonic for old and young. Pleasant to take and absolutely harmless. Safe to give children. Get a bottle at any store. Now two sizes—50c and $1. The $1 size contains 2½ times as much as the 50c size and gives you 25% more for your money.

Code Authority For Retail Rubber Tire—Battery Trade

The Federal Code Authority, for the Retail Rubber Tire and Battery Trade, on yesterday granted approval to the Mississippi Coast Tire and Battery Trade Association as the Code Authority and Regional Control Board for the tire and battery business in the area of the counties of Harrison, Hancock, Jackson, and Stone, Mississippi, with David Cottrell, Jr., attorney for and secretary of the Association, officially appointed as the impartial agent with whom schedules of prices for the Trade must be filed. The Association was formed about the middle of June, this year, for the purpose of encouraging and maintaining fair competition in the Trade in the Coast area, and was organized under the NRA Code for the Trade approved by the President May 14th, 1934. This authority recently given will permit Coast dealers to file their prices in Gulfport instead of Mobile and New Orleans, thus giving them the privilege of handling their affairs locally as far as possible under the Code. The law requires every member of the Trade to file with the Code authority or its duly constituted agency, in such manner and form as the Code Authority so its agency may determine, a schedule of such Member's retail and commercial prices, discounts, terms and conditions of sale, including trade-in allowances, if any, for any product or service of the Trade or any combination thereof.

Notice has been published requiring these schedules to be filed on or before the 4th of August, 1934 at 307 Hewes Building with the filing agent.

—Prof. C. E. Craft, who has served the board of trustees and patrons of DeLisle School for the past few seasons, was elected this year to the faculty of Bay Central and Bay High School, a position at home and one of location near his home, which he had signified his willingness to accept. However, he had evidently reckoned without his hosts at De-Lisle. The Board of Trustees and patrons of that school would not stand for his leaving. His services had been of unmeasured value to that section, and the school had never enjoyed such success and given mutual satisfaction to all concerned since his advent and stay. Hence the Bay St.
Louis position is off and DeLisle triumphed. As instructor and disciplinarian and executive management
Mr. Craft has won quite a reputation in his profession.

—City Commissioner W. L. Bourgeois has an important notice in this issue of The Echo, calling attention to all tax-payers in the city who have not as yet paid their third and last tax installment for the year. August 1 is the deadline. Failure to pay at that time will cause the tax-payer to become delinquent and his or her property advertised in the newspaper to be sold at a later date.

—Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Dubuc, former Bay St. Louis residents but now

Mrs. R. de Montluzin and family, Misses Olga and Merle Dubuc, have gone to the Virginia mountains, where they are guests of friends of former college days. They will be gone for some time.

ARCENEUX Super Service

Phone 305 On The Beach Bay St. Louis, Miss.

—Record-breaking audiences witnessed the Baer-Carnera fight film
Thursday and Friday nights at the A.
& G. Theater and also Sunday and Monday nights when the film, "Little Miss Marker," with Shirley Temple and Dorothy Dell were featured.
The local theater's shows enterprise in its selection of programs and every effort is exerted to get the best and satisfy the public. "Little Miss Marker" exceeded expectations.

—Mrs. A. G. Anderson and two children, residing at Sacramento, California, reached Bay St. Louis Wednesday morning on a visit to Mrs. Anderson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Osoinach, and other relatives, for a few weeks. Mrs. Anderson, before her marriage, was Miss Cleo Osoinach, well and popularly known and her many friends as well as of the Osoinach family, will be glad to see her again, after a long absence. The trip was made by rail. Mr. and Mrs. Osoinach and their daughter, Mrs. P. E. Porter, met the trio at the depot in New Orleans.

—Bay St. Louis has its full quota of summer visitors this season, the best proof is to the effect few, if any, houses remain to be rented. The season, like elsewhere along the Coast, has attracted visitors from all parts and it has been several years past since the like has been seen.
Smaller and better houses are in brick demand; houses that are habitable and comfortable and strictly modern. The old house has had its day. Modern comfort and convenience did it.

—Hancock County's Board of Supervisors has been in session from day to day revising the assessment rolls—a big and exacting job for this hot weather! The rolls are gone over carefully, equalizing assessments as far as humanly possible and in an effort to keep the burden of taxation down, President Emilio Cue said. The rolls will be ready for inspection all during the balance of the month and complaints, if any, are to be filed before the August meeting.
